which are generally recognized as existing in the jury system of the state.

Mr. Bishop explained that his bill would be especially valuable in getting rid of the professional juror, the man who some how or other is seen again and again in the jury box. The bill also increases the number of persons eligible to be jurors. The rule now is that the selectmen of a town pick out a certain number of names of persons eligible to be jurors, which list is re-duced one-half by the jury commission.

The Bishop bill requires the name of one but of every ten eligible to be selected, and the number may be reduced but one-fourth.

TROLLEYMEN DISCUSS THE NEED OF SEATS

Have no Faith in the Railroad Commissioners.

Allege That They are Owned by Consolidated Company—Spirited Debates Before Com mittee.

Hartford, April 16 .- Spirited arraignments of the railroad commissioners marked the rehearing before railroad committee yesterday afternoon, on the bill providing that trolley companies shall provide seats for motormen on lines outside of city limits, to be used by motormen only when outside city limits. This bill was given a hearing several weeks ago and was reported adversely by the committee, but was assigned for another hearing. Large numbers of motormen from all over the state were present. Senator Middleton of East Windsor favoring the bill said that it only ap-plied to suburban lines. He called at-tention to the fact that large stretches of these roads lay over private land and that the use of stools would be without danger. He also claimed that many trolleymen were obliged to give up their positions owing to the illness caused by standing for hours at a Representative Elmer M. Chadwick of Salem, recommended that the railroad commissioners should be allowed to make exemptions. A representative of the trolleymen here asked for a five minute conference with his clients in minute conference with his clients in order to see whether they would not agree on the recommendation made. After the conference he reported that his men were opposed to this measure as they had no faith in the railroad commissioners and did not believe they would be fairly dealt with and for that reason they had decided to stand or fall by the bill in its present form.

Horace Smith of Norwich said that Horace Smith of Norwich said that he had run as a motorman for seven-teen years and that his left leg was nearly paralyzed from continuous

W. H. Bowell of Norwich, another motorman, said that he suffered from kidney trouble induced by his work. J. F. Hannum of Warehouse Point said he used a stool all last summer on a hand brake car and that he did his work better as a result of it.

J. A. Frye of Warehouse Point said he was wearing steel braces in his shoes as a result of his standing so much on his feet.

D. F. Fitzgerald of New Haven tore

o pieces the three objections raised by General Manager Punderford of the connecticut Company at the previous hearing, viz., that the motorman's range of vision when seated was not as great as when standing, that owing to the curtains being pulled at night at would be impossible to tell whether the motorman was obeying the law requiring him to stand when in city time. No Error is Found in Three Cases and The supreme court handed down five decisions yesterday, in this city. In Laura V. Whittlesey vs. John G. Por-ter, no error is found. This is a suit to have a certain deed declared valid to remove a cloud on a title to land. Judgment in lower court was for de-wendant ing him to stand when in city limits, and that in admitting that a motorman should stand in cities they were admitting that there was an element of danger attached to sitting.

Representative Raymond J. Jodoin of Sprague said, "I was up before the railroad commissioners a short time ago and was told before I went just what I would get, nothing. You know as well as I do that railroad commissioners are supposed to be owned by In State Ex rel, August E. Wallen vs. William L. Hatch, no error. This was a suit to oust the defendant from the office of school visitor in New Britain. The plaintiff was successful and the defendant appealed.

The three cases from New Haven county were disposed of as follows: In state vs. Tillie Anderson, an action in which the defendant was convicted of keeping a bouse of ill forms. sioners are supposed to be owned by the railroad. Why, a 14-year-old boy knows that."

THE THEATRES

POLI'S

The big laughing hit in vaudeville, Simple Simon Simple, will be the main offering at Poli's theatre next week. This act is a tabloid musical comedy, and is made up of the funniest scenes in Nixen & Zimmerman's cartoon mu-sical entravaganza of the same name which has been seen in this city many times is the years gone by. Pat Roo-ney, the singer, dancer and all-around comedian, will appear in the role of Simon Simple" and in his support will be seen a company of fourteen elever be seen a company of foureen clever people. The famous second act is shown with the dining room of Mrs. Judge Simple below and Simon's bed-room above. Simon's mamma is about to give a reception and says that "little boys should be seen and not heard." Simon says that he will be heard." Simon says that he will be heard, and the rest of the act is devoted to showing how he makes his presence felt during the social event. Geo. Thornton will play "Mose," the pickaninny friend of Simon. Prominent in the cast will be seen Maggie Baxter in her original role of "Mammy Johnsing," and Messrs. Smiley and Allen as Judge Simple and Constable Swatem, respectively. A chorus of pretty girls respectively. A chorus of pretty girls add much to the jollity of the act. Four new songs will be heard "Bye Baby Bunting." "Simple Simon Simple, and Bambooland," and "Daisy." A carload of scenery and effects are required for Simple Simon Simple.

Butler and Bassett skating on real iec will be the added feature next week. This is the real novelty of vaudeville, This is the real novelty of vaudeville, nothing of the kind ever having been offered before. Miss Butler is the former "Dip of Death" girl with the Barnum show, but because of many great personal risks elected to try her old feats of spectacular skating. Butler and Bassett will be found one of the most pleasing acts of the season.

Among the other winners next week will be: Everett Butterviel, the popular Bridgeport stock star, in his new vaudeville act: The Musical Johnstons; Harry First & Co., in a laughable sketch; Mr. and Mrs. High Emmett, the worderful ventraleguists Sir Beytar. the wonderful ventriloquists;Sir Baxter the Scotch aerial cyclist, and the new and entertaining Electrograph views.

SMITH'S. William Collier, who will be seen this evening in his new three act farce, "The Patroit" had his early stage "The Patroit" had his early stage training under the late Augustin Daly. He received much good advice from Mr. Daly, who took a great interest in Collier, then the call boy. Later on when the call boy became a star he continued to listen to advice and does not hesitate to say that he has benenot hesitate to say that he has bene fitted by it. Collier is particularly fond of recalling the cautioning, kindly words of Joseph Jefferson and Charles words of Joseph Jefferson and Charles Frohman. When Collier was playing "Miss Philadelphia," "Hoss and Hoss" and such pieces, he had a natural ambition to get as many laughs as he could. One day Mr. Frohman—this was a number of year's ago—got to talking about some line in a musical comedy Collier was doing and said "Willie, (and he was Willie—not William in those days) you ought not to liam in those days) you ought not to put in a single line at the expense of a human being who may be suffering from a physical imperfection of any from a physical imperiection of kind whatsoever, or which may stir up kind whatsoever, or bitterness. Ir every audience you play to there will be people of this kind present. Never forget that." Collier never forms "I would rather fall altogether," he said a day or two ago, "than have any unhappy man or woman in the audience say "he meant that for me."

The telephone scene near the close of the first act of "Married for Money," the new American drama which will be seen to-morrow matinee and even-ing is said to be one of the most in-tensely interesting and startling effects ever produced on any stage, and is but one of the many exciting and interest-compelling situations which abound in this great play of present day Ameri-

Next Monday evening, "The Golden Next Monday evening, "The Golden Butterfly," the new romantic comic opera by Reginald deKoven and Harry B. Smith, which comes direct from its triumphal success at the Broadway Theatre, New York, will be presented exactly as it was seen in the metropolis, with the brilliant comic opera. star, Grace Van Studdiford, in the title role, supported by a company of over eighty people, including Gene Luneska, Louis Cassavant, W. J. McCarthy Charles W. Butler, Walter Percival, Lenora Novasio, Alice Hills and other prominent players. There is one love waltz song that occurs about a dozen times in the opera and is the motif. It is entitled "Do Not Forget Me" and its hide foir to be consolid. its bids fair to be one of the favorites of the season.

Tuesday evening next; Thursday evening, April 29, and Tuesday even-ing, May 4, Fred Niblo, the American humorist-tourist, will deliver a de-lightful series of "Travel Talks," graphically illustrated in color. Each pictorial pilgrimage is said to be illus-trated with hundreds of original photographic views, augmented by marvel-ously life-like motion pictures taken on the spot by Mr. Niblo. The series of "Travel Talks" or zig-zag journeys around the world, as Mr. Niblo calls his entertainment, provides a unique portrayal of the world, its beauty, its wonders, its mysteries, and its strange people. The entertainments are not stale, wordy lectures, but are said to be bright, breezy talks by a man who has won international renown as a traveler and a talented entertains. traveler and a talented entertainer. The itineraries comprise as the first, "Africa, From the Cape to Cairo," covering all of the territory included in the hunting trip itinerary of ex-President Roosevelt. The second of the series will be "Egypt, From Cairo to Khartoum"; the third, "Russia, From the Black Sea to Siberia." Each affords two hours of interesting, instructive and refreshing entertainment, not alone for the lover of travels in foreign lands the 'ourist the book reader but lands, the tourist, the book reader, but for all who delight in clever witticisms folly stories and bright descriptions.

Richard Brinsley Sheridan's illustrious classic comedy, "The Rivals" will soon be presented locally by Joseph and William W. Jefferson, The capabilities of these stars, who served their apprenticeship under the tutelage of their father, the late Mr. Joseph or their father, the late Mr. Joseph Jefferson, means that they are the worthy successors of their distinguish-ed sire. Joseph portrays "Sir Lucius O'Trigger"; while William W. will play "Bob Acres." Being supported by a company of histrionic merit, an evening of rare enjoyment is assured when "The Rivals" comes next Wednesday evening.

The Rise In the laver. It is little short of astonishing to see how little water is required to float the southern river steamers, a boat loaded with perhaps a thousand bales of cotton slipping along contentedly where a boy could wade across the stream. Once, however, the Chattahoochee got too low for even her light draft commerce, and at Gunboat shoals a steamer grounded. As the drinking water on board needed replenishing, a deck hand was sent ashore with a couple of water buckets. Just at this moment a northern traveler approached the captain of the boat, and asked him how long he thought they would have to stay there. "Oh, only until that man gets back with a bucket of water to pour into the river," the captain replied. Presemptied overboard. Instantly, to the amazement of the traveler, the boat began to move.

"Well, if that doesn't beat thunder!"

he gasped. The fact was that the boat, touching the bottom, had acted as a dam, and there was soon backed up behind her enough water to lift her over the shoal and send her on down the stream .-Harper's Weekly,
